OVERVIEW

Hendrik Puschmann is a senior associate in the firm's London and Frankfurt offices. He practices commercial arbitration, investor-state arbitration and civil litigation. Hendrik represents clients in a broad range of financial, corporate, commercial and construction disputes. He has substantial oral advocacy experience before the English and German courts and in alternative dispute resolution proceedings.

Hendrik was recently named as party-appointed arbitrator in an UNCITRAL case involving a contractual claim by a private company against a state.

He is regularly instructed to advise on dispute avoidance strategies and lead settlement negotiations. He has a strong track record of achieving successful settlements for clients.

Another area where Hendrik has profound experience is challenges against arbitral awards and contested enforcement matters. He is general editor of Butterworths Challenges in Arbitration and co-author of a chapter on challenges against awards and enforcement in the forthcoming Singapore Academy of Law Practitioners' Guide to Investment Arbitration.

Much of Hendrik's work focuses on emerging markets. He has extensive regional experience in Central and Eastern Europe. Several chambers of commerce in the region list him as a recommended arbitrator.

Besides his legal practice, Hendrik maintains close links to academia as a fellow of Clare Hall, University of Cambridge, having previously been a Marie-Curie Research Fellow in the university. He is also visiting lecturer in international law and commerce at Johannes Kepler Universität Linz (Austria). Hendrik publishes and speaks regularly on a variety of dispute resolution topics.
